

The Palace of Auburn Hills

|             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|-------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Arena title | The Palace of Auburn Hills                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Capacity    | 24,276                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| About       | The Palace of Auburn Hills (commonly referred to as The Palace ) is a sports and entertainment venue in the Detroit suburb of Auburn Hills, Michigan. The arena opened in 1988 and is the home of the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association (NBA). It was the home of the Detroit Shock of the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA), the Detroit Vipers of the International Hockey League, the Detroit Safari of the Continental Indoor Soccer League, and the Detroit Fury of the Arena Football League.                |
| Logo        |  The logo for The Palace of Auburn Hills. It features the word "PALACE" in a large, stylized, serif font. Above "PALACE" are the letters "T H E" in a smaller, spaced-out font. Below "PALACE" is the text "OF AUBURN HILLS" in a smaller, italicized serif font. The entire logo is enclosed within a decorative, circular frame with ornate flourishes.                                                                                                                         |
| Photo       |  A photograph of the exterior of The Palace of Auburn Hills at night. The arena's facade is illuminated with a warm, yellowish light, highlighting its curved, grid-like structure. The words "THE PALACE OF AUBURN HILLS" are visible on the side of the building in large, illuminated letters. In the foreground, there are several cars parked, and a few people can be seen near the entrance. The sky is dark, and some trees are visible on the right side of the frame. |